

2026 key stage 1 and key stage 2 technical pre-test trial information

Key Stage & Subject	Trial information
Key Stage 1 – Mathematics	Each pupil will take one complete test, comprising one arithmetic paper and one mathematical reasoning paper. The arithmetic paper will take approximately 20 minutes, and the reasoning paper will take approximately 35 minutes. Pupils should be given a reasonable break between each paper.
Key stage 1 administration time	The administration times given above are a guide. If the majority of pupils are still working at the end of the test time, along with the administrator, please use your judgement to decide if you will allow the pupils to continue or not. The test should only continue for a few minutes past the given administration time. Administration arrangements are more flexible for KS1 so the tests can be administered to smaller groups of pupils and can be stopped if the pupils need a break and then resumed so pupils still have the appropriate length of time. KS1 trial tests should be administered by a member of school staff and supported by the trained administrator unless specifically requested.
Key Stage 2 – English reading, main and anchor	For the main trial, each pupil will sit two complete tests, each comprising of a reading prompt and answer booklet. Both papers will last 60 minutes each. Pupils should be given a reasonable break in between each test. STA select a small portion of schools that will sit the anchor-only combination. For this, each pupil will only need to sit one complete test lasting 60 minutes. You will be told in advance of administration if this is relevant for your school.
Key Stage 2 – English grammar, punctuation, and	Each pupil will sit two complete tests, each made up of a question booklet and a spelling booklet. Each paper will last 60 minutes.

spelling, main and anchor	Pupils should be given a reasonable break between each paper. STA select a small portion of schools that will sit the anchor-only combination.
